

The Chair of Public Finance at FAU Erlangen-Nuremberg is offering two positions starting from October 1, 2019:

Junior Research Assistant in Public Economics

You will be working as a part of a committed team conducting research projects that are international and empirical by design, addressing topics in finance, taxation, and economic policy (see <https://www.finanzwissenschaft.rw.fau.de>). The chair's teaching curriculum encompasses courses at Bachelor's and Master's level in both German and English.

As the ideal candidate you have completed a Master's degree in Economics with distinction, preferably with a focus on empirical research methods, public finance or microeconomics. Furthermore, you are driven to pursue research and are highly motivated to work in empirical economics. Applicants in the final stages of their Master's program are also welcome to apply.

We strongly support your work towards a PhD degree and encourage your participation in the structured coursework offered by the Institute of Economic Research. You also have the opportunity to work on third-party funded projects. Pay grades are set according to TV-L E 13 (German public service remuneration). The positions are initially set for a duration of three years, with the option to extend for two additional years.

In its pursuit of academic excellence, FAU is committed to equality of opportunity and to a proactive and inclusive approach, which supports and encourages all underrepresented groups, promotes an inclusive culture and values diversity. FAU is a family-friendly employer and is also responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Applications will be screened on a rolling basis starting on July 31, 2019. Incoming applications will continue to be accepted until both positions are filled.

Please submit your complete application documents (CV – including date of birth, a cover letter as well as copies of all certificates, degrees and references) as one single PDF file via e-mail to: wivi-finanzwissenschaft@fau.de.

Please contact Prof. Dr. Büttner, thiess.buettner@fau.de, with any questions.
